Advertising and Canvassing.
By W. C. Keeney.

Advertising has probably done more to foster the habit of systematic saving than any other one factor. Banks through newspaper advertising have induced thousands of people to open savings accounts and to systematically add thereto.

The savings habit once formed leads to the reading of advertising along other lines for your savings bank depositor is keen to discover ways which will permit him or her to increase the bank balance.

There are those who actually deposit each month the difference between what they expected to pay for articles and the amount they bought them for when advertised at special prices.

Then there are those who, with a given sum as working capital, keep close watch of the advertisements appearing on the "Want" page and by judicious investment turn this capital again and again—crediting the profits to their savings accounts.

More hoarding of money isn't the object of savings. One should save to know the value of money—to have the money ready when opportunity offers a reward to the person with ready cash.

More reading of advertising to save a penny here and a dime there on the one article is not getting the true value of the advertisement. One should read advertising for the liberal education it affords, for the better ways of living it makes possible, as well as for the time-saving and money-saving opportunities it presents.

SIX ARRESTED ON GAMBLING CHARGE

Chief of Police Davis Says He Found Them Playing Poker in the Basement of the Legal Tender Saloon.

J. M. Jones, J. S. Johnson, D. H. Ray, P. Hendricks, A. A. Hightall and W. J. Jargentin were arrested by chief of police L. N. Davis and city detective Joe Hausinger Friday night at 9:45 o'clock and docketed at the police station on a charge of gaming.

Police chief Davis stated Saturday morning that he and the detective discovered the men engaged in a game of poker in the basement of the Legal Tender saloon on Overland street Friday night. There were 380 poker chips and two copper cents on the table, the chief said, when he and the detective walked into the basement. The men, he said, did not appear to know him and continued playing their hand.

Later when he told them that he was going to take them to the station, he said they fled. With the exception of D. H. Ray, who the chief said was the dealer, the defendants were released on $100 each. Ray's bond was placed at $25.

LAWYER SAYS HE FELT BOUND TO TRANSFER PROPERTY TO "TRUST"
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 2.—How the property of the Aultman & Miller company, of Akron, O., was acquired by the International Harvester company in November, 1905, was related by William A. Vincent, an attorney in the government's dissolution suit against the alleged combination.

The witness said he purchased the property at a receiver's sale in July, 1902, for $118,000, and, after operating it ostensibly as an independent concern for more than two years, formally transferred it to the alleged combination in November, 1905. The witness said that after acquiring the plant, the name of the plant was changed to the Aultman & Miller Buckeye company.

Mr. Vincent said he undertook to purchase the property as the agent of Cyrus H. McCormick and James H. Deering, but that his proposition was refused by the company. Later, the witness said, he purchased the property on his own account, although he felt almost morally bound to let the International Harvester company eventually have it.

SEVEN YEARS OF MISERY

How Mrs. Bethune was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Sikeston, Mo. — "For seven years I suffered everything. I was in bed for four or five days at a time every month, and so weak I could hardly walk. I had cramps, backache and headache, and was so nervous and weak that I dreaded to see anyone or have anyone move in the room. The doctors gave me medicine to ease me at those times, and said that I ought to have an operation. I would not listen to that, and when a friend of my husband's told him about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for his wife, I was willing to take it. Now I look the picture of health and feel like it, too. I can do all my own housework, work in the garden and entertain company and enjoy them, and can walk as far as any ordinary woman, any day in the week. I wish I could tell to every suffering woman and girl, and tell them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."—Mrs. DEMA BETHUNE, Sikeston, Mo.

It has helped thousands of women who have been troubled with displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing down feeling, indigestion, and nervous prostration, after all other means have failed. Why don't you try it?
